CLYDE'S WRINGER TRUST

FINED IN FEDERAL COURT
PITTSBURG, Nov. 10.—The American Wringer company of Woodstock, N. Y., and the Lovell Manufacturing company of Erie, Pa., together with George H. Chance of New York and Charles S. Meacham of Erie, sales managers of the companies, entered pleas of guilty in the United States circuit court here today of violation of the Sherman antitrust act. Judge Charles P. Orr sentenced each company to pay a fine of $2,500, and each sales manager $500. The government charged that the companies conspired to fix the price of wringers in this country and mutually agreed on prices.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Wednesday.—The Morning Post's Russian correspondent says a deputation of university professors, former cabinet ministers and politicians, following an audience with King Ferdinand, organized a committee of national action, whose avowed purpose is to prepare the country for intervention in the present war.

WASHING WON'T RID HEAD OF DANDRUFF

Dissolve It, That's Best Way

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you shake it off. To do this get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arsenic; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most, if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it. No matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find that after washing and drying of the scalp with soap and water, your hair will be fluffy, soft, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. If you want to preserve your hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for nothing destroys the hair more quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stingy, itchy, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everyone notices it. You can get liquid arsenic at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

COPPER CAN BE SENT TO NEUTRAL COUNTRY ONLY, SAYS ENGLAND

Contents American Shippers Routing Co-goes Through Italian Ports

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Copper shipments from the United States to Italy, if consigned "to order" or are proved to be destined ultimately to a belligerent, will be seized and detained by Great Britain. This was announced today by Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, after a conference at the state department.

The ambassador made the following statement: "The Italian government has prohibited the export of copper from Italy, but not the transit of copper through Italy to a foreign country. Copper consigned to Italy for Italian use will not be subject to seizure, but copper which is consigned to a belligerent country or to order will be suspected. Arrangements are being made for the transit of copper to Switzerland for the use of that country on the guarantee of the proper authorities."

Position of Italy.
The British government has found that Italy's embargo on the exportation of copper would not prevent a shipment originating in the United States from eventually reaching Germany. The Italian government does not feel bound, according to the British understanding of the question, to interfere with a shipment from one country to another if Italian territory is merely used as an intermediary stage in the journey of a consignment of goods.

As Italy extends her obligations, it is said, to continue merely to preventing Italian exports of copper to the belligerents.

From reports received at the state department, it is apparent that there is an unprecedented demand for copper in Europe. England placed it on the contraband list because of the variety of its uses in the manufacture of munitions of war.

Must Go to Neutral Consignee.
The result of the British ruling on the Italian view toward copper will be in the opinion of officials, to detain all vessels at Gibraltar where cargoes of copper are not consigned to a specific consignee in a neutral country. All copper which was shipped before the product was put on the contraband list will be paid for by the British government wherever seized.

The United States government has not been able to reach an agreement with Great Britain about the cargo of the Red Star liner Kronland. The vessel itself was released on protest from Washington, but now a second protest is being prepared against the detention at Gibraltar of the cargo of copper and molybdenum. The American shippers claim the consignee of the cargo was an Italian firm, while the British contend the goods were destined for Danzig, Germany. A prize court will determine the question on the basis of the evidence presented by the shippers and British authorities.

RUMORS ARE AFLOAT IN U.S. THAT CRUISER NORTH CAROLINA SUNK

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Secretary Daniels today ordered the division of operations in the navy department to get into communication as quickly as possible with the cruisers North Carolina and Tennessee, to learn if one of them had met with a mishap as had been rumored during the day.

The secretary and chief of staff, Mr. Daniels, said that he did not feel the slightest apprehension for the safety of either vessel. Rumors were in the air today that the North Carolina had been blown up by a mine at Beirut, but so far as could be learned all rumors originated in the United States.

The navy department last heard from the North Carolina and the Tennessee on November 2.

The former was at Beirut, Syria, and the latter at Mytilene, off the coast of Greece. On November 7 and 9, inquiries were sent by cable to the department by the two vessels to learn the basis of reports that one of the American cruisers had fallen marooned, but no answer came.

Secretary Daniels today ordered that the messages be traced.

Wireless Station Found in Mexico; Will Be Closed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The navy department was advised today that a secret wireless station at Ensenada, Lower California, had been ordered closed by the Mexican government authorities. The station, which was operated on Mexican territory, close to the American border, was one of the several stations from which, according to British officials here, German cruisers in the Atlantic and Pacific have been receiving information concerning the whereabouts of British vessels.

The navy station at Ensenada reported recently that the Ensenada station was not operating and that some source was giving information that a representative from Germany was in the plant here, which was owned by the Mexican officials.

The navy department and experts and the United States secret service are continuing their search for secret wireless stations within the jurisdiction of the United States.

who are being pursued by the Austrians.

Petrograd official reports also claimed progress in East Prussia where the Germans are said to have been driven back.

Professor Pares, the British government's representative with the Russian army, without giving the details of the results of the engagements, says: "The theater of the recent operations (in Russian Poland) is of crucial importance. Here Austria and Germany join hands and serious reverses would compel them either to retreat on divergent lines or to expose one or the other of their capitals."

GERMANS TRYING TO WIN BY FRONTAL ATTACKS

PARIS, Nov. 10.—The line had changed somewhat today and the battle was resumed with all its former violence from the North sea to Arras. Under the previous losses, the Germans again returned to the charge.

Along the line from the sea to the Vosges mountains, there is no flank on which to carry out their favorite enveloping maneuver and the Germans are trying to create one by piercing the battle line in a frontal attack. The effort is being made to the south of Plimade and officials returning from the front say it is likely to continue for some time.

The progress of the allies, according to these officers, though not rapid, is most satisfactory. A celebrated French general, who has been prevented by age and ill health from taking an active part in the campaign and whose the capital, which it is said to have been ordered to take in the name of Eulalio Gutierrez. Between these troops and their goal is Gen. Pablo Gonzalez, who is loyal to Carranza, with 40,000 troops disposed about Queretaro City. It is expected a clash of arms will occur there.

In the capital there are 27,000 men, according to official figures, under Generals Blanco and Alvarado. General Blanco remains in Aguascalientes. Fighting of a severe character continues in the suburbs of the capital. Persistent attacks are being made on Xochimilco and San Angel by the followers of Emiliano Zapata. During the fighting last Sunday it is reported there were 300 casualties.

Shells rained to the front from the elevated here are said to have been loaded with sand instead of powder. It is reported here that Carranza forces have been victorious everywhere in the suburban fights.

Ultimatum Expires

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The ultimatum of the Mexican convention at Aguascalientes ordering General Carranza to deliver the executive power in Mexico to Eulalio Gutierrez expired at 6 o'clock tonight.

Neither the state department nor the Mexican embassy here, in charge of Carranza agents, have any definite advice as to what had occurred. Early in the day Rafael Zubaran, Carranza's Washington representative of Carranza, received a telegram from Luis Carranza, who was at Cordoba with General Carranza yesterday, stating that the latter had decided to recognize the acts of the convention with certain reservations.

Carranza, according to Mr. Cabrera, told the commission, which came to notice him of the sending of Gutierrez by the convention, that he was willing to accept the executive power in a provisional president who would exercise no theoretical but actual control of the division of the north, now commanded by General Villa.

RUSSIAN ADVANCE ON CRACOW IS IMMINENT

PETROGRAD, Nov. 11.—(Wednesday)—That a Russian advance on Cracow, Galicia, is imminent, seems to be confirmed by a report that the commandant of the Austrians, has issued an order expelling all non-combatants from the city.

This report is printed in the Russian Shvets, which also announces that the German generals von Mackensen and von Liebert were made prisoners in the fighting around Sandomierz.

According to the existing newspapers, the action of the Russian government in pushing Shvets and Liebert toward the allied coalition in favor of a Mohammedan holy war against Russia is considered in Russian official circles as proof of Russia's friendliness to Russia, thus far.

PREACHERS OVERLOOKED

DECLARES DR. VOSBURGH

DENVER, Nov. 10.—Evangelists are overlooked during the work and have no time or energy left for the preparation and delivery of sermons that deal adequately with the serious problems of the world, in the opinion of Dr. George D. Vosburgh, well known Colorado minister and lecturer. Dr. Vosburgh today addressed the state convention of Baptist churches.

"Give your preacher a chance to do his best and the result will be a spiritual awakening in the church of today," he said.

The worshiper's spiritual home and foreign missionary societies of the state also are in connection here.

name for obvious reasons cannot be given, said today.

"It seems to me that the situation of the allies is excellent, quite apart from the Russian victory. The Germans have just attempted a great effort, the value of which is not underestimated. Not only have they reinforced their fighting units of every kind, but they have created new army corps, the greater part of which they have sent to Belgium and the north of France."

I consider it remarkable that our forces have done so well against the German effort. Not only do we appear to have held our own, but it seems to me that the situation has changed greatly to our advantage during the past month. At the end of September the two armies faced each other along a straight line from Verdun to Compiègne. Success on our part would only have driven the enemy back a little without leading to any great strategic result.

"Today our front is a right angle affecting an enveloping form. This is a maneuver justly cherished by the Germans. It is a maneuver which they applied with partial success to us at the beginning of hostilities.

"They are making their decisive effort simultaneously on our left and around Verdun. These are the two sections where they do not risk being turned. They also are the two points most vital to the Germans, since in the event of success on our part their lines of communication would be placed in danger."

German Troops Are Being Rushed to the Eastern Front

LONDON, Nov. 11.—Wednesday.—The Morning Post's correspondent in North Belgium says that to seize and hold Dunkirk and Calais is believed there to be Emperor William's ardent desire and that it is certain a desperate effort will be made to achieve this aim.

The correspondent adds that he learns from Berlin that 80 trainloads of German cavalry, drawn from France and Belgium, have left Berlin for Flanders during the last three days.

This weakening of the German cavalry, he says, is due to the fact that the fighting in Flanders is largely confined to the artillery and infantry while cavalry reinforcements are urgently needed to deal with the Cossacks who are advancing with menacing rapidity on the eastern frontier. It is further said that German strategy in Flanders has been the subject of severe criticism in military quarters at Berlin and that General von Kluck has been taken to task by the emperor himself, although General von Kluck believed that he acted throughout as the executor of imperial orders.

It is alleged that Germany paid Turkey as the price of her intervention in the war 200,000,000 marks ($400,000,000).

EUROPE NOW IS BIDDING FOR AMERICAN COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 10.—With southern port cotton showing advances in prices today, the attention of the cotton trade was turned to the increasing foreign demand for actual cotton, which had been interrupted by war. It was said foreign spinners now were better buyers than were domestic mill owners.

England, recently has greatly increased its takings of American cotton. Imports of cotton by Liverpool today amounted to 2,615 bales, of which 2,023 bales were American. It was reported that cotton in Germany was bringing 18 cents a pound.

Only Sure Corn Cure Ever Known

"Get-It" the New Way, 2 Drops Do It

To endure the pains and tortures caused by little things like a corn is ridiculous simply because it is unnecessary. This new plan corn cure,

"GET-IT" is the first one ever known to remove corns without cutting, without pain and without trouble. This is why it is the biggest-selling corn cure in existence today. It is now used by millions because it does away with sticky pastes with plaster and cotton rags that shut their position and press down upon the corn, with salves that "draw out" the "toe" with "mercuries" that cause pressure and pain, and pulling at the corn.

"GET-IT" is applied in two sections. Two drops applied with the glass rod do the work. Pain ceases, the corn, all its parasites. Accept no substitute. Try it on any corn, wart, callus or bunion tonight.

"GET-IT" is sold by druggists everywhere. 25¢ a bottle, or sent direct to E. Lawrence & Co. Chicago.

The German fortress of Tsing-Tau surrendered November 7 after a siege which lasted 65 days. The turning over of the fortress today to the Japanese is the culmination of the negotiations that were entered upon immediately after the assault of the Japanese and British troops upon the fortified position.

longed search was made by these vessels.

This search resulted, October 30, in the Koenigsberg being discovered by H. M. S. Chatham, Captain Sidney R. Drury Lowe, hiding in shoal water about six miles up the Ruffiji river, opposite Matia Island, German East Africa. Owing to a greater draft the Chatham could not reach the Koenigsberg, which probably is aground, except at high water. Part of the crew of the Koenigsberg has been landed and is entrenched on the banks of the river.

Both these enterprises and the Koenigsberg herself have been hampered by the Chatham, but owing to the dense palm grove and which the ship lies, it is not possible to estimate the damage done. Pending operations for her capture and destruction, effective steps have been taken to block the Koenigsberg by sinking coilers in the only navigable channel to the river.

"The Koenigsberg is now imprisoned and unable to do any further harm. The fast vessels which have been searching for her are thus released for other service."

ALLIES WILL WIN IN 1917, SAYS EXPERT

Divides the War Into Six Periods; Two Already Have Been Fought

By FREDERIC W. WILE

(In Special Cable to Chicago Tribune.)

LONDON, Nov. 8.—I am enabled to cable you the views of a high military authority regarding the probable duration of the war. His assumption is based on the belief that the Germans will not commit any great tactical error.

He divides the war into six periods. Two of them have passed, one is the present, and three are to come. The first period was the advance of the Germans through Belgium into France, and the second was the battle on the Marne river and the retreat of the Germans to the Aisne river.

The third period began with the fighting on the Aisne, which was continued until it developed into the present struggle in Flanders. The culmination of the German attempt to obtain possession of Calais and the other French seaports.

The fourth period will be the further retreat of the German army and a new battle on the Meuse river, the fifth will be another retreat by the forces of the Kaiser and a battle on the Rhine river, and the sixth and final period, according to this strategist, will be the march of the allies on Berlin.

The strategist assumes that the battle in Flanders will not end before the first days of December. He assigns a period of five months to the battle of the Meuse, which will extend that struggle until the end of April or the beginning of May, 1915.

According to the views of this strategist, the campaign on the Rhine river should last almost twice as long; that is to say until February of 1916, and the final march on Berlin and the negotiations for peace should bring the war to an end, with the withdrawal of the allied armies of occupation, in 1917, thus giving a total period of a little less than three years to the war.

It is presumed by the same high authority that the advance of the Russians will occupy a similar period, and that only the steady and combined pressure of the allies can bring matters to a conclusion in the time suggested.

In reaching his estimate on the time needed, the strategist assumes that the German focus will withdraw steadily, without any sudden collapse on either front.

CLOSE RACE FOR JUSTICE OF PEACE IN COLO. CITY

Irvin and Meagher Elected; Sawin and McFarland Win in Manitou and Phillips and Riddick at Fountain

Probably the closest contests in the county election were for the office of justice of the peace and constable in the Colorado City justice precinct. The winners for justice of the peace were B. F. Irvin and H. J. Meagher and for constable were Charles M. Lemley and John G. Falkner. In the race for justice of the peace, Irvin received 463 votes, Meagher, 417, Harvey S. Lockwood, 413, and W. H. Rowe, 412. Meagher won by only five votes over the fourth man in the race.

In the race for constable, Lemley received 499 votes, Falkner, 469, and O. R. Allen, 464. This gave Falkner a margin of only five votes over Allen.

In the Manitou justice precinct, Walter D. Sawin and E. L. McFarland were elected justices of the peace. William H. Woodman and John West were elected constables. In Fountain, George I. Phillips and W. G. Riddick, progressive candidates, were elected justices of the peace and R. E. Rowe and George Clark, conservatives.

SUBSCRIBERS TO FUND ARE ASKED TO SEND MONEY

The $500 fund for a dental infirmary lacks only $68 in actual cash of being completed, and subscribers who have given pledges for this amount should send checks or cash at once to Mrs. C. J. Wright, chairman of the general committee. The itemized account of contributions omitted the name of the Buena Vista school which gave $10 toward the fund. The largest number of tickets for the "Columbia" day benefit at the Princess Theater last week were sold by the Garfield school. It is important that all outstanding subscriptions are sent to Mrs. Wright as soon as possible, in order that the equipment may be ordered and plans completed.

It is Just Natural To Administer Babies

Our alternate nature impels love for the cooling infant. And at the same time the subject of motherhood is ever before us. To know what to do that will aid the mother in the physical comfort of expectant motherhood is a subject that has interested most women of all times. One of the real, helpful things is an external abdominal application sold by most drug stores under the name of "Mother's Friend." We have known so many grandmothers, who in their younger days resorted upon this remedy, and who recommended it to their own daughters, that it certainly must be what its name indicates. They have used it for its direct influence upon the muscular curvatures, ligaments and tendons as it aims to afford relief from the strain and pain so often unnecessarily severe during the period of expectancy.

A little book mailed by Bradford Regulator Co., 205 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., refers to many things that women like to read about. It refers not only to the relief from muscular strain due to their expansion but also to various morning sickness, taking of breasts and many other distresses.

EL PASO COUNTY'S BENEFITS FROM 'BETTER ROADS' MEASURE GREATER THAN ANTICIPATED

Money Must Be Spent in Construction and Not Maintenance; Ute Pass Road Will Be Repaired and Changed Next Year

Already noted throughout the county for its excellent highways, Colorado will soon take first place among good roads states, in the opinion of road enthusiasts of Colorado Springs. And this chiefly by reason of the "Better Roads" amendment passed by a majority of five to one at the general election of last week.

G. O. P. PLUM TREE WILL SHAKE SOON

Eleven Positions Will Go to Supporters of Cause; Many Applicants

The Republican plum tree is due for a shaking one of these days although the election has been a dead issue only a week. Although the newly elected officers do not take office until January already there has been a mad scramble for offices and the eleven offices that are to be filled six in the assessor's office and five in the treasurer's office are all there for distribution. Here is the principal difficulty—not one-fourth enough offices to go around. The employees of the assessor's office, the county commissioners and county clerk's office are to remain as they have been and only the newly elected Republicans have any offices to give.

Albert H. Horton, treasurer-elect, has five plums to drop. "I have received about 30 applications, so far," said Mr. Horton, yesterday, "but I haven't made any appointments or promises. The supposition is, of course, that the people in my office will be Republicans."

Frank A. Perkins, assessor-elect, said he had a number of applicants, and that he had made no appointments or promises. He has six offices to appoint.

A meeting of the El Paso County Central committee is scheduled for the near future. It is understood, when the matter of appointments will be discussed. It is understood that the Republicans want to get the matter settled as soon as possible, owing to the over-increasing size of the list of applicants.

LEGISLATURE MUST MAKE COLORADO DRY--STEWART

Republican State Chairman and Probable Speaker of House Returns From Campaign Duties

Every member of the state legislature is in duty bound to make an honest effort to put into effect the statewide prohibition amendment, just passed, in the opinion of Philip B. Stewart, chairman of the Republican party of Colorado and a representative-elect from El Paso county. This means that the legislature, just past, such laws as will make it possible to enforce the prohibition measure. Stewart would not comment on efforts being made to have him elected speaker of the house.

Stewart is back in Colorado Springs for a rest after the campaign, which he conducted. He expresses the opinion that the Republican party faces a great problem in placing the state back where it was before the last few years of trouble and turmoil, but is confident that his organization is capable of doing the work.

Speaking of the Progressive party Stewart said:

"I believe one paramount lesson to be learned from the recent election in this and other states is that the people have expressed their desire to work out their problems of government through the two major parties in the nation—and this is no reflection on the so-called Progressive party. It has fulfilled a useful purpose, and its work was not in vain. The Republican party deserved a chastening, and it has taken it in an intelligent and constructive spirit. It will now go forward to greater things in the future, with the keen consciousness that it is the handmaid of the people and not the arbiter. The Progressive party does not, and never did mean anything more than the demand for honest men to fulfill public duty honestly and fairly in the interests of the whole people, and not of a fraction of the people. This is a lesson which every good citizen ought to recognize."

state's section of the Pike's Peak Occidental section of the Santa Fe trail and Rainbow route, the Colorado-to-the-Gulf highway, these and a few others are known to motorists throughout the nation. The smaller roads are not so good. It is this work the state highway commission with the greater funds at hand, will do.

In 1915 and every year thereafter, the commission will have a fund of approximately $500,000 to expend on road construction. Not a penny of this amount can be used for maintenance, under the "Better Roads" amendment authorized last week.

Denver Gives a Third.

The amount to be raised by the levy is approximately $500,000 of which Denver will contribute more than one-third. Under the law, the highway commission cannot expend state funds on road work within the corporate limits of any city. So Denver city and county, being one, the $200,000 raised there will be expended on roads in the state.

There is a sort of agreement with Denver, however, that the money raised in Denver county, shall be used in building roads from which Denver will directly profit, especially the great state highways entering the capital from the four directions.

This will be a direct benefit to the state at large and especially Colorado Springs. Probably the first construction work done with Denver money will be on the Colorado Springs-Denver highway near Denver, the only bad stretch along the road. This has long been the object of outbursts of motorists, both local and touring. Because of the heavy traffic between Denver and this city, Denver probably will request that the road be constructed first, leaving those to the north and west for later years.

It will be the policy of the state highway commission, according to Leonard E. Curtis of this city, a member of that body, to expend the same amount in each county that that county appropriates. This will give El Paso county a large portion of the state funds.

The county maintaining and building out-of-the-way roads, and the state constructing main highways, El Paso county should soon jump even farther ahead of its neighbors in the matter of fine highways.

Next year the highway commission will have only $100,000 to expend on roads. The work will be carried on about as this year.

Rebuild Ute Pass Road.

Included in road work contemplated for El Paso county next year is the reconstruction of a portion of the Ute Pass Highway between Manitou and Cascade. The road twice crosses railroad tracks in the few miles stretch, both crossings being dangerous. It is planned to rebuild the highway, placing it all on the same side of the railroad tracks, eliminating the two crossings and five small bridges.

El Paso county has experienced an exceptionally hard year in matters of road building and maintenance. The heavy storms of last winter injured the highway to a great extent and the floods of last spring washed out numerous bridges. It is estimated that it will cost $300,000 to replace all the bridges washed out. However, the new bridges will be of solid concrete and permanently permanent as possible. Among the bridges to be constructed are the South Nevada avenue viaduct over Mountain creek bridge over Squirrel creek, over the Fountain at Buttes and over the Fountain at Woodland park.

The benefits to be derived from the new road fund can hardly be estimated now. Mr. Curtis says: "We only know we will have the money with which to carry out much of the work already planned by the highway commission. We expect to almost work wonders in highways."

"We employ the open method of kilns, but we draw the smoke and the heat from the kilns by means of a steel hood running on rails above the kiln, and connecting with the main overhead duct, and parallel with tracks, from where it is forced by a large blower into the dry kiln to dry our brick, after which it is pushed up through two stacks, each 150 feet high. The smoke from boilers also travels through dry kiln.

Instead of the old way of firing a kiln, 2 arches, all at one time, we apply our continuous system by starting to fire on one end of the kiln and lighting one arch every four hours and so on until we reach the other end. In this way there are continuously six arches burning, because when some are being lighted others are cooling. Under the old system there would be 30 arches from which smoke would issue.

REPLY: Little can be done for you now. Exercise will help you. Give gymnastic work or physical culture a prolonged enough trial.

About the most cruel curses now robbing the afflicted are the fakers who are claiming to restore the wasted limbs of people who have had infantile paralysis. Beware of them.

PLUNGING THROUGH MUD, OLDFIELD WINS SECOND LEG OF RACE

Driver Beats Out Cloudburst, Enters Control Like Cata-pulted Mud Ball

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 10.—Barney Oldfield, winner of the first leg yesterday, plunged through mud, beat out a cloudburst and won the second leg of the seventh annual Phoenix road race today. Forty-seven minutes and 21 seconds to the good, he will start from here at 10 o'clock tomorrow and battle his way against time and elements 124 miles down to Phoenix, the finish line.

Oldfield, fourth into the control at Needles yesterday, winner of last year's "cactus derby," as the race is called, checked in here second today at 2:09:01, mountain time, followed by Louis Nickert, third, at 2:13:35. Oldfield came in like a catapulted mud cannon ball at 1:59:45. Allowing for the difference in Pacific and mountain time, his elapsed time was 8:18:45, 14 minutes better than the runner up.

Yesterday Oldfield had a clear lead of six minutes over Durant, who has now dropped back from second place.

The addition of Oldfield's elapsed times on the two legs gives 17:04:40 with Davis next.

Rain poured on the already moist roads early in the day. Fifty miles away Oldfield sighted a cloudburst that defused the road just as he thundered his way safely from under it.

Starting second from Needles this morning, Oldfield overcame Durant's two-minute lead. He put a gay of 10 minutes between himself and Davis, springing his rear axle and roaring into the finish on flat rear tires.

The finish at the Phoenix fair grounds tomorrow will give the winner in addition to the purse a medal and title of "master driver of the world."

MINOR LEAGUES AGREE TO SUPPORT ORGANIZED BALL

Can't Will Be Placed on Sound Footing; Johnson to Talk to Weag-man About Cub Ownership

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 10.—The National association of Professional leagues will continue to unequivocally support organized baseball. A resolution to that effect was adopted at the first meeting of the association today.

When the convention took up the transaction of business a resolution was offered pledging the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues to organized ball. The resolution recites that an "unsatisfactory condition has arisen in professional baseball during the last year," and that players "have been induced to disregard their obligations to organized baseball, which has raised a question in the minds of the public as to the honor and integrity of ball players as a class," and concludes:

"Resolved, that we, the representatives of organized baseball in the minor leagues, at this first session of our fourteenth annual meeting most emphatically and unequivocally reaffirm our allegiance to organized baseball as the ideal condition for the future prosperity of the great national game."

A roll-call was demanded and there was not a single vote recorded against the resolution. The meeting then adjourned until afternoon.

President R. B. Johnson of the American league left for his home this evening. Concerning the probability of organizing the Federal league into organized baseball he declined to talk, but of the general situation he had this to say:

"We are now in a satisfactory working position. I shall meet Mr. Weagman in Chicago Thursday and discuss

NEW YORK IS FOOTBALL CRAZY AND IT CAN SECURE NO GAMES

Would Be Master Stroke for Some Big Manager to Stage Game at Polo Grounds

By FRANK G. MENKE

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—It's almost time that some of the football managers awakened to the fact that it might be a good business proposition to stage one of their big games in the Polo grounds in New York.

New York is football mad. Since Columbia quit footballing big boys, New York hasn't had a big annual game in her own confines. Whenever New York wants to see a football game it has to go out of town.

Last year the fourteenth annual game was staged here and it drew a big crowd. It was a money-making proposition for both teams. This year only one game was scheduled for this city—the Cornell-Brown game. It drew about 5,000. That's not a large crowd, but it's a larger crowd than such a game would have drawn in Providence or in Illinois.

The crowd at the Cornell-Brown game would have been around 25,000 had either team been in the top-notch class at the time they played. But both were something on the order of tail-enders. Both had been beaten and both had poor records. The fact that 5,000 persons separated themselves from about 15,000 to see these teams battling indicates that a game crowd—probably a larger one—would turn out for a game between two big eastern teams, or between a big eastern and a big western eleven.

Man's Money for Teams.

The Polo grounds can accommodate 30,000. It's something of a pinch bet that if a Notre Dame-Dartmouth game or a Michigan-Dartmouth game had been staged there early this year the park would have been jammed.

Princeton, Yale and Harvard used to play their big games in New York. That was in the days before either of these universities had big stadiums of their own. The "Big Three," with their new stadiums, can accommodate greater crowds than can the Polo grounds and, of course, they will play all their big games in their own stadiums.

But the Polo grounds can accommodate a larger crowd than can the stadium of Dartmouth, Pennsylvania, Castile, Cornell, Notre Dame and some of the probable changes of ownership of the Chicago Cubs. Later there will be a conference between the members of the national commission and leading officials of the minor league association, which we expect will result in again placing organized baseball on a sound footing.

Charles Ebbets, owner of the Brooklyn National league club, made it plain that there was to be no change in the ownership of the club.

"There has been no option given on the Brooklyn club and I would not sell my interests for a million dollars and the inventory value of the plant itself with a bonus for the individual players," he said.

Caddies and Caddies

An American golfer who played several rounds at a Scottish course this summer is telling his friends an amusing story of experiences he had with the native caddies, some of whom were men who had played the game from childhood. One day during a round, the 30-year-old caddy doled out the club he thought proper for each shot regardless of any preference on the part of the player. The climax came when after offering a driver he rushed forward again, just as the player was about to make the stroke, exclaiming: "Hold, me! I've decided to play the shot with a club!"

CHICK EVANS
Who has played in the hardest kind of hard luck on the links this season. Although he has played the best golf of his whole career—better golf, averaging it up, than any other amateur in the United States—Evans was rewarded in the tournament in which his fondest hopes centered by failing in the first round. The records show that Evans has broken more course records than any other American golfer this season and he is generally credited by golf experts with being the best amateur in the country; yet he has no title to prove the latter claim.

SOME GERMAN GEOGRAPHY

From Life.
We have had lessons enough in the geography of Belgium and northern France. A little German geography would be welcome now. For example:
Where is Berlin? Perhaps the kind allies will presently locate that place, so that it will be as clear in the minds of the American geography class as Louvain, Rheims and Termonde.
